Meghan, I wouldn't worry about that. It's much worse and we're way past that point. There won't even be a 2028 election with anything resembling a "Marco Rubio and JD Vance" on the ticket, or a requisite repudiation of stupid Jewish subversion bullshit like "Christian Zionism", crafted to destroy Christianity, the White race and White countries as a whole.

Hell, we won't even be discussing it by then, because the issue will have already been sorted out one way or another.
